Thank you for your interest in becoming a Distributor.

Mobile Solar is an Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) that makes solar generators and sells a variety of off-grid solar-electric equipment. We take pride in our products and the durable solutions they provide to the off-grid market. Our design philosophy has always been: “Simple, Safe & Rugged.”

Our customers include: contractors, home and cabin owners, scientific researchers, the oil and gas industry, the military, rental and event companies and federal, state and local agencies – in other words anyone who’s ever needed power in a remote location.

While we continue to reach new markets and new territories, both domestic and overseas, our Distributor network grows as well. Distributorships are granted on a geographic basis – usually an entire State, or portion of a State. These Distributors are expected to have new equipment on hand to demonstrate, a facility at which to show our products and at least one qualified service technician to perform modifications or repairs to our products.

Our Distributors are as diverse as our customers – and we think that is important. The more a Distributor understands his customers and their specific power needs, the more he beats out the competition. We look forward to hearing how your background and approach will serve our customer base.
